An evening with Derek Gow

Derek is no shrinking violet when it comes to direct action and challenging bureaucratic organisations. He is also a great storyteller with plenty of stories to tell

So, we are delighted to announce that long time campaigner and passionate advocate for the re-introduction of beavers, Derek Gow will be joining us at the East Gate Bookshop on the 10th of February.

Beavers are being reintroduced to counties across the UK after 400 years of extinction. As a keystone species, they will modify the environment around them, support other animals and reduce the risk of floods.

Many people keen to find natural and cost-efficient ways of mitigating environmental damage and restoring nature believe beavers could be the answer.
