With Rebecca Mordan

Out of the Darkness: Greenham Voices

As a child Rebecca visited Greenham Common Women's Peace Camp with her mother and was part of making history with 30,000 other women and children at the Embrace the Base action 40 years ago.

In 2018 she started interviewing Greenham Women to celebrate their unique role in changing women's roles nationally and internationally, and she hasn't stopped since, turning the project into a standalone organisation: Greenham Women Everywhere! GWE educates about and raises awareness of the actions and impact of the peace camp and is overseen by an advisory board of Greenham Women who actively plan the organisation's events.

In this talk about the peace camp, her book and the process leading to it, Rebecca will sing you some songs from the Greenham Song book and answer all your Greenham questions.
